

THE BROOMFIELD BULLETIN:
ADMINISTRATION ANNOUNCEMENTS

DR. VANESSA EWING
WEEK OF: FEBRUARY 23RD 2009

Dear Families,

We had a great time participating in Sports Day and Pajama Day at school this week. Our students also enjoyed having special programs planned by our Guest Principals, winners of the Broomfield Banner Student Newspaper Writing Contest. Our student stories will be on display at our Spring Arts Program in April. In their role, they assisted with morning announcements, writing this newsletter, and making some leadership decisions (with approval from the “regular” principal). It is my pleasure to provide their Principal Reports below. Enjoy your upcoming weekend!

Warmly, Dr. Ewing

Principal on February 24th - Sneha (story submitted: Penguino)

My name is Sneha, Principal for the day. It was fun. I have gotten to do some things with Kindergarteners like playing Bingo with them, singing an alphabet song with them, and doing a worksheet with them. It was fun playing with them and funny because they kept on shouting. Ha! Ha!

Then I went to my class to help everyone with math. It was fun because I WAS THE TEACHER! Then this afternoon I am going to play with the little kids. I am going to have recess for a long time. Then my principal duty will be over. Therefore, I had a wonderful time being principal today.

Principal on February 25th - Drew (story submitted: Weird Animals)

Hi, my name is Drew. I was principal for the day. We had an extra fifteen minutes of recess, extra math and science, and we got to listen to soft music while taking a small nap. I loved teaching two younger kids their vowel sounds and I helped them with beginning letter sounds for pictures. I loved doing fourth grade math too. I loved doing it all!
